Leanna.

Leanna, Kansas, Feb. 15, 1897.—The old settlers say the roads are in the worst condition they have ever seen them, and we fully believe them.

Grandma Reed is quite sick.

Mr. Baer visited friends near Ottawa last week.

Will Pullen, of Chanute, was visiting relatives here last week.

There was a social dance at Will Dickerson's Saturday night.

Mr. Rowden, who recently moved here from Arkansas is quite sick.

Chas. Myers has returned from Cloud county, where he has been visiting an uncle.

Pearl Troutman is having a tussle with about a dozen of old Job's comforters.

The chances are good for two months more of school, in addition to the present term.

Dr. Courtney is improving gradually and we hope to see him out again in a few days.

Miss Josie Richardson spent last week in Chanute with her sister, Mrs. Will Pullen.

Henry Richardson has sold 90 acres of his farm for $1500. We did not learn the buyer's name.

About 20 couples gathered at Mr. Glassner's last Saturday evening and enjoyed themselves in a dance.

Wm. Snodgrass, of Jordon, Butler county, Kansas, is visiting his brother, F. Y. Snodgrass, this week. Mr. Snodgrass is one of the prominent teachers of Butler county.

We have at last secured a blacksmith—a Mr. Carpenter, from Rest, having decided to locate here. He read THE TIMES and thereby learned of the location. Moral—Read THE TIMES if you would be posted.

Our mail is sadly interfered with by the bad roads. For the past week we have been getting our mail only every other day and some days not at all, but Mr. Barnett, the carrier does well to get through as often as he does. He is a faithful public servant.

Leanna has been having a coal oil famine this week. Our merchant had it ordered from Chanute, but the shipper was out of barrels and could not send it, consequently the old fashioned "dip" has been brought into use, reminding one of the "good old days of our daddies."

A. D. Reed met with quite a severe accident last Saturday. In passing through the barn old "Nailer," the true and tried for lo these 20 years, let drive with both feet, kicking Mr. Reed just over the heart, in consequence of which he has been confined to the house ever since.

Rev. Winters, of Thayer, filled his appointment at this place last Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Winters is quite a young minister, but has undoubtedly selected his proper vocation and will be a bright light in his church. Owing to the weather and the roads the brethren decided to postpone the protracted meeting.

Link Hanson and Miss Addie Reeves were united in marriage last Sunday evening at the home of the bride, Rev. T. J. Alford performing the ceremony. Link is one of our best young men and successful farmers and his wife is a young lady of winning disposition and liked by all who knew her, and will be a true helpmeet in the journey through life. Monday evening Mr. Hanson gave a party and supper at his home, where they received the congratulations and well wishes of their many friends. May their joys be many and their troubles few and little ones.

St. Paul.

St. Paul, Kans., Feb. 17.—T. H. Ashford has sold his residence in this town to Mr. Showalter, and will move to Chanute soon.

Mrs. Minard is down with la grippe. We had another snow storm yesterday.

C. F. Dutcher and wife are on the sick list.

Our merchants are fixing up for the spring trade.

W. J. Shannon is up again after an illness of a few days.

O. S. Snow's little son Frank, is sick with the dyptheria.

The Board of Trade has rented the front room over Huffman's grocery store.

L. H. Cloughly has purchased lumber here to build two new residences in Parnons.

J. R. Hoop is trying to get the position of night watchman at the National Capital.

Mrs. Wm. Conway has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Joe Maguire in Ft. Scott the past week.

Mrs. C. F. Hutchings of Kansas City is visiting the family of J. A. Hutchings, this week.

Mr. Kelly of the Indian Territory has moved into the building west of Boyle's tin shop, and expects to live there for some time.

Alfred W. Kermode and Miss Ninnie F. Clemons were united in marriage at St. Francis church last Wednesday. Mr. Kermode has not lived here long, but he has made many friends. The bride is well known, and their friends wish them a happy and prosperous journey through life.

John Connelley, formerly of this place and Miss Eva Cox of Lamar, Mo. were united in marriage at the Catholic church in Nevada, Sunday Feb. 1st. The ceremony was performed by Father Elgood. They spent last Saturday and Sunday at the Lindell Hotel in this city where John received the congratulations of his many friends.

Mayor Heffley has received a silver medal for an invention he has just patented. Webberburn and Co. patent attorneys at Washington D. C. give a silver medal yearly to the person who has the simplest, and at the same time the most useful invention patented through them. This is what Mr. Heffley received. His patent is to raise windows by compressed air.

Shaw.

Shaw, Kans., Feb. 15.—The literary society two miles west of here decided by an unanimous vote that cattle are of more benefit to mankind than horses.

J. W. Liggett went up to Iola Monday on business.

Everything seems slow in this section except weddings.

The editor of the TIMES made a flying trip to Shaw the fore part of the week.

Lisle Rice has part of the lumber on the ground for the erection of a new house in Shaw.

Beamer & Fanatia shipped a car load of hogs to the Kansas City market last Monday.

The charivari at Kil Berger's last Saturday night proved a dismal failure to the participants.

On account of the almost impossibility of the roads, little or no corn is being marketed at this point.

We are glad to note that Mr. J. P. Allen who has been suffering for the past few weeks with a seige of la grippe is rapidly convalescing.

John Springer had a valuable horse to die of distemper last Sunday night. It was one of his span of matched four-year-old mares, which was considered one of the best young farm teams in this section.

Tyler Post No. 489, elected the following officers at the last regular meeting: P. C. John Guss; S. V., Wm. Beamer; J. O. John Allstot; Adj., Jas. P. Allen; Q. M., J. P. Tyler; Surgeon, S. P. Mitchell; Chaplain, C. B. Knetzer; Officer of Day, S. S. Mahaffy.

Mr. John Allstot has traded his farm for town property in Iola, and will make that place his home after the first of March. He has lived in this vicinity for about ten years and is recommended to the good people of Iola as an honest, upright and worthy citizen; in every way worthy of their confidence and patronage.

Spliced—Our popular young Justice of the Peace, E. E. Eckley, is having experience enough in the hymeneal business to already rank among the experts. One wedding is scarcely over before he is called upon to officiate at another. Last Sunday he united in holy bonds of wedlock, Mr. Will Perry and Miss Stella Shoemaker, both of Shaw precinct. This young couple starts out in life with everything bright before them, and it is the wish of their many friends that it will continue to be so until the final wind-up of earthly scenes.

Urbana.

Urbana, Kans., Feb. 16, 1897.—Will Perry and Miss Shoemaker were married last Sunday evening. We wish them success.

Mud! Mud! Mud!

Mrs. Neeley is on the sick list. Not so many sick this week as last.

C. R. Noble is again out on the road. Some of our citizens are loosing their "grip."

Urbada is threatened with a coal famine.
